THE POSTAL HISTORY OF ALCESTER AND GREAT ALNE by John Donaldson

This paper is a compilation of information about postal services in the Alcester area from the 18th century to the present day. There have been many changes to our postal services over the years. Sadly most village post offices have now closed, but they are all remembered in this authoritative publication.

This document was published originally as occasional paper no. 42 in 1988. This was prepared by John Donaldson, a long-standing member of the Society.

The original paper has been extensively revised and updated with many new photographs. The editor of the new edition is Alan Godfrey.

“Postman’s Knock” has been printed on heavyweight gloss paper with full colour covers and costs £3.00.
